The business of specia interest was action on the Decatur Electric atreet railway ordinance asking or rights to make proposed extensions. The ordinance failed to pass by a vote of 5 to 4, because of the complicated interests of the two rival lines in the Fourth PETITIONS, COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

Attorney Buckingham submitted a remonstrance from property owners on East Main street against granting the Citizens' electric company a right of way out that thoroughfare. One of the prin pal objectors was the Hatfield Milling Company. Fire Marshal Foster called attention to he necessity of a change in the interior of the Morgan street hose house, for the benefit of the health of the department. He said the work could be done by the firemen, and the only expense would be for material. Referred to fire committee with power to act.

John Lindsay submitted a communica tion setting forth that some time ago he had presented a bill for damage to his property by the reason of the water ourse being changed on Webster street adopted, Alderman Harwood then pro by the paving. Six-Round Knock-Out.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.-J. J. Corbett, teacher of the Olympian Club at San Francisco, bested Jake Kilrain in a six-round contest for a purse of $3,500, at the Southern Athletic club rooms last which pays a sick benefit and the regular | night. Kilrain had agreed to knock Corbett out in six rounds but was out fought at every point. Corbothis a giant youngster, well educated, ambitious, and is regarded in the West as the coming world's champion. He had never been defeated.

Kilrain stated that his weight varied hetween 201 and 205 pounds; Corbett tipped the scales at 158 pounds. Al-though Corbett is six feet one and a half inches tall, he looked a mere boy compared with his adversary. Muldoon and Cleary seconded Kilrain, and Tommy Danforth and Mike Smith were behind Corbett. George Scott was bottleholder, and E. B. Violett r ,erec.

Both men sparred for an opening watching rach others' style. Corbett carried his left loosely, while his right held guard. Kilrain tried his rushing tion, but Corbett was too lively for him. The referee decided at the end of the sixth round that Corbett had out fought Kilrain throughout.

"Dr." Blood. Dover, N. H., Feb. 17.-What will loubtless prove an important develophas been furnished by Mrs. Charles Richmond, who, upon taking up a Bostor Sunday paper, this morning saw the picture of "Dr." Blood, who is strongly supposed to have been implicated in the taking off of Hiram Sawtelle. "I know that man," she said. "He called here a week ago to-day. It was in the afternoon: he asked for a room: I told him I had one, but when I looked at his face I refused to give him one. lie had two bundles, one done in wrapping paper; should say it might have contained clothes: the other, done up in newspaper, was about the size of a man's head. I sent the man to Mr. Hall's." Later the picture was shown to Mr. D. O. Hall, who recognized it as that of : man who engaged rooms of him last Monday, but did not come back to use them. Hall saw him on the street that night, and also the next day.

Lawyer Pierce, of Dover, is the man who called at the hotel in Portland where Sawtelle was staying and who, when he saw the entry "J. Bridge, Dover," on the register, stated that that was the man he wanted. It seems that Pierce was looking for one George Briggs, of Dover, and at first indstook the entry for the name of the man he wanted. He says he excused himself to the clerk and departed.

The Remains Positively Identified. Rocm still. N. H., Feb. 18.—Dr. Tokey, Hiram Sawtelle's family physician, yesterday examined the remains of the murdered man and positively identified the body by certain unmistakable peculiarities as that of Hiram.

This morning W. T. Wells, F. M. Young, B. O. McReynolds and Theodore Nelson returned from Chicago, where these gentlemen with Hugh Cres, G. D. Haworth, L. Burrows and James Millikin, as the Decatur committee, had an undience yesterday with Mr. Beck, general manager of the Illinois Central Railroad company, where in behalf of Decatur the committee made a formal demand for the erection of a new union depot at this point on the line. Mr. Creudelivered a brief address and at the same time presented the petition that had been signed by the Decatur shippers and business men. The commuttee was received conbally and treated courtenasty. ENCOURAGING

THE UNION DEPOT MOVEMENT

The Decatur Committee and the Central General Manager.

General Manager Beck replied in substance that individually he was powerless o do anything immediately, but that he would see that the petitions were laid before the directors of the Illinois. Cen ral road at their first meeting. He added that the company had recognized the need of a new passenger depot at Decatur, and had plans drawn for the structare contemplated, whereupon the committee were shown blue print plans for a one story structure, the same that were drawn two or three years ago. Copies of the plans may be seen at the REPUBLIcan office. Mr. Beck went on to say that the Central people were in correspondence with the Wabash people in reference to the depot matter, to see what that road would do towards meeting the expense. President Fish, of the Central, he said, agreed with him that Decatur should have a new depot, and all that prevented the immediate prection of the building was an arrangement by which the expense could be met. The passenger business of the Central is nominal in comparison with that done by the W_{n-1} bash. If the Wabash will meet the Central half-way the probabilities are that the depot would be built during the present season. If the depot is put up, the Central freight depot will have to be moved from its present site. The Central people are now figuring on lifting the brick freight house bodily and moving it to another lot, south of Eldorado street. In conclusion the General Manager stated that it was to the mutual interest of Decatur and the railway companies to maintain good feelings toward each other, and that in a short time he believed that Decatur would have a depot that would be entire-ty satisfactory. He could not promise positively when operations would begin, out he assured the committee that the Central would not stand in the way of any arrangement that might be made to rould either sell the Eground or lesse it. Mr. McReynolds was impressed with the fact that the Illinois Central company will do the square thing by Decatur, and that if the Wubash will come to time the union depot will in all probability go up during the present senson.

Now let Decetur join with the Central n the effort to interest the Wabash in the East Park Bonlevards, and it is three the depot movement, and soon our fondest hopes and desires will be realized. It rests with the Wabash to say how large the depot shall be. If they will join in the movement it will be a twostory structure of splendid size; if not it will be a one-story affair, but a big improvement on the present excuse. James Millikin, W. T. Nelson and F. M. Young believe that in a short time the depot will be erected.

The Shoe Factory Site Secured at

The probable site of the Henver & Gliddon shoe factory has been known to the REPUBLICAN ever since the factory gentlemen selected it, but in compliance with the wishes of the committee whose duty it was to make the purchase, no hint of the lot wanted was made in these columns.

The desired lot was purchased yesterday and the deed was passed. It is the ot at the southwest corner of East Eldorado and Chisholm streets, having a north frontage on Eldorado of 60 feet, and is 152 feet deep. It is vacant and was the property of John S. Campbell, who has sold it to the trustees for $1,000. This will be the site for the shoe factory building, which the sub-committee will have erected under the personal direction of effect, and sang his solos to the best of his ability. THE DRAMATIC CLUB.

A Charming Opera and a Lively Comedy at the Grand.

The talent of the Decatur Dramatic club came out stronger than ever at the Grand last night, when a pleasing musical gem and an ancient but meritorious comedy that had been in careful rehearsal for some months were given in a very creditable style, winning for the participants fluttering applause and floral tributes. It was a performance that was smoothly rendered, with perfect orchestration directed by Prof. Walter, aided by Miss Effie H. Brown at the piano, and it struck the Republican critic that our Bloomington friends would be delighted with the feast of music and comedy if presented in the Evergreen City in return for "A Scrap of Paper." The audience was large and fashionably attired and no one was in a hurry for the dance so long as the excellent performance continued. The first number on the programme was he musical number:

THE SLEEPING QUEEN. (By Balfe,)

CHARACTERS,

The costomes for the gentlemen came from Chicago, and the ladies were appropriately attered for the event. Briefly the story of the opera is the love of Phillippe for the Queen, who reciprocates the affection. The punishment for touching the Queen is informed by Agnes of the Regent's purpose, and as the Regent has an appointment to meet Agnes, the Queen takes her place and unknowingly the Regent kisses the hand of the Queen. He is exposed and is only saved from death by the pardon of Phillippe whom the Queen accepts as her husband. The music was charming in words and rendition, and each vocalist in turn won spe cial marks of approval from the discriminating audience. Miss Berry, who took the leading role, was never heard under more favorable circumstances, and the same may be as truly said of Miss Bur-rows. In the waltz song Miss Berry displayed the full range of her cultivated voice and won a rapturous encore, and at the close of the response she was presented with a bouquet of beautiful flowers with the hearty approval of the audience Miss Burrows, whom we all know to pos-Miss Burrows, whom we all know to pos-sess enviable dramatic talent, was per-fectly at home in all the scenes, and acquitted herself with her customary grace. Her singing was of a superior character especially in the duets, trues and quartettes. Mr. Alexander had a trying role but he was equal to the occa sion. His rich baritone voice, of wild range and melodious compass, gave the music of the plotting Regent in a manner which won for him flattering testimonials of recognition. In dialogue and song he was all that could be desired. In the trio with Miss Berry and Miss Burrows the full range of his voice was displayed with pleasing effect. Joe H. Alexander acted his part well, and told the romantic story of his infatuation with dramatic

ing aurouse. The closing number on the programme real life

The comedy went with a rush and pro-oked much merriment. Mr. Parke and Mr. Hays were made up in great shape for the occasion, and in the lightning rush of dialogue and stage business, impressed their anditors with the fact that they had rehearsed their roles faithfully they had rebearsed their roles faithfully to the end that there would be no drug in the farce, and there was none. Both did splendidly and made a reputation as amateur comedians difficult to match Miss Roby did not appear often, but when she did, there was a flutter of special interest and excitement usually produced by the appearance of a voluble landlady, whose exacting lodgers are two or more contentious young men. or more contentious young men.

THE DANCE. The entertainment closed with a dancing party on the stage, which was hastily cleared of the scenery. There were 11 numbers on the program and 2 extras. At the intermission the guests, at the suggestion of 11on. B. K. Durfee, repaired to the cafe, where the ladies of the Woman's Explanate carried activation. nan's Exchange serve i refreshments. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends of the contracting parties.
